

Development and Review of Interprofessional Clinical Placement Evaluation Tool.

Nerida Firth^{1,2} and Eliza Birtles¹

*1 Community Rehab northern Queensland,
Townsville, Queensland*

2 Mount Isa Centre for Rural and Remote Practice, James Cook University, Townsville, Queensland

A collaborative project between:

James Cook University

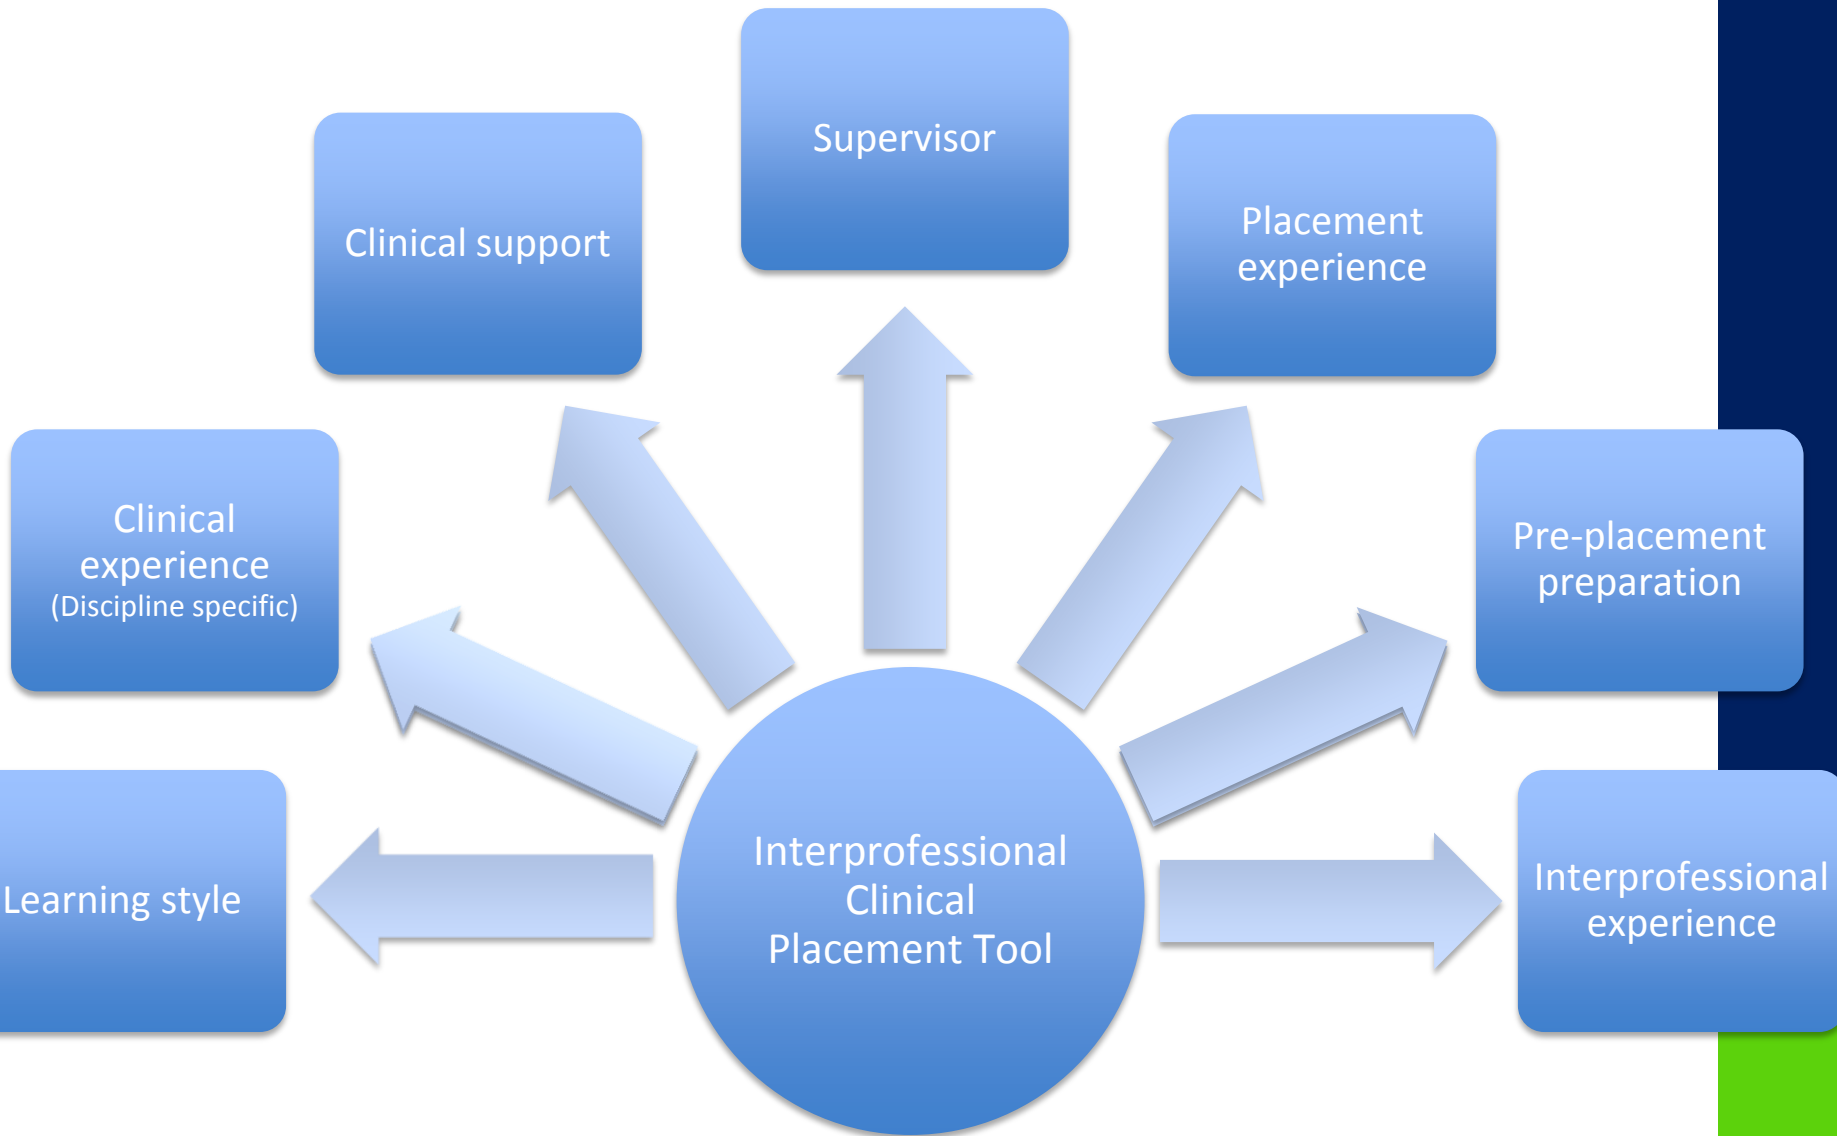

Townsville Mackay Medicare Local

Townsville Hospital and Health Service

Community Rehab northern Queensland
Building sustainable community rehabilitation services in northern Queensland

Development and Review of Interprofessional Clinical Placement Evaluation Tool.

Development and Review of Interprofessional Clinical Placement Evaluation Tool.

- Impact and extent of learning with students of other disciplines?

- Impact and extent of learning from students of other disciplines?

- Impact and extent of learning from clinicians from other disciplines?

- Contribution to development of professional identity?

- Contribution to development of IP communication & IP teamwork skills?

- Contribution to understanding of scope of practice of own discipline?

- Contribution to enjoyment of placement?

- Contribution to own clinical experience when working with a participant as a member of an IP team?

Interprofessional (IP)
experience